

The Executive Transportation Group signs agreement with All City - Monday, Oct.31st, 2011

On Monday, October 31, The Executive Transportation Group (ETG) and All City Corporate Transportation, Inc. entered in to a joint venture agreement for ETG to provide services to All City. These services include dispatch, billing and management resources and will allow All City to continue to grow and provide great service by focusing on sales and service delivery. Both companies have provided Black Car services in the New York market for over 30 years and have long standing corporate and personal customers.

All City's President Richard P. Damour stated "This is a great step for us. ETG's ability to seamlessly integrate many of our core business functions provides us the ability to focus on the things that really matter to our customers. At the same time, we don't lose the identity that All City has spent years building with its client base. We are genuinely pleased that we could put this deal together so quickly with ETG."

John L. Acierno, CEO & President of ETG stated "We are very happy to have reached this agreement. All City is a long standing company with a great group of customers and drivers. With them we are expanding on providing core services to transportation companies as we have in the past, and this is an area that continues to grow for us. We welcome them as part of our group of companies and look forward to assisting them in building their business."

Both companies anticipate that the transition to managed core services will be accomplished in a matter of days. The initial response from All City clients and drivers has been highly positive as the technological and billing strength of ETG will provide an enhanced level of services without a large fixed cost outlay. Dispatching will be more automated and faster and the ability to have more control and flexibility over the billing process means All City will be able to provide increased service levels to clients. "This is a win-win for all parties" said Mr. Damour.
